

NEFA Convention report 2/27/2013

Well its here this weekend. We are low on registrations around 230 need to be at 350 so if you have not registered please see me tonight and please make the announcement at the meetings you attend between now and this Friday. We would like to make sure those of you that do come to the convention please get your merchandise early we are limited on supply. We will be haveing a sports silent auction on Saturday night we really need support for this the vendor is being very generous with his donation the vendor is great moments and has a ton of Ravens stuff available. We also need support for next years convention board elections later tonight and any open positions will be filled at future area service meetings .There will also be basket rafles with a coffee package a step working package and a womens care package please help support this .Please make the announcement and plan on attending this convention we need support.

Thanks Rob P
